Two-Week Intensives Relapse Prevention Programs

Rolling enrollment is now open.

Recovering from an eating disorder is not a linear journey. It's normal to face challenges and setbacks after treatment. However, with support, these lapses don't have to escalate. Two-Week Intensives are designed to support clients who have already received treatment for eating disorders and need help maintaining, nourishing, and reconnecting with their hard-earned recoveries.

Two-Week Intensives are available at all levels of care, both virtually and in-person.

Recovery is not linear.

Eating disorders thrive in isolation.
Relapse prevention happens in community.

No matter how long it's been since receiving treatment, Alsana's Two-Week Intensive (PHP/IOP) Programs are designed to help clients nourish their bodies, recommit to their recovery from eating disorders, and gain skills for navigating challenges and triggers. Recovery setbacks don't have to lead to relapse. Asking for help and acknowledging difficulty are not signs of failure; they are signs of courage.

Signs you may be vulnerable to relapse include:

- Increased "mirror checking"
- Social withdrawal or depression
- Frequent missed appointments with one's treatment team
- Transfer of addictive behaviors
- Lack of focus at work and/or school
- Suddenly too busy for meal breaks
- Noticeable increase in perfectionistic tendencies
- Frequent emotional avoidance
